This map displays the economic development priorities identified as part of the Fort Worth Open Space Conservation Program prioritization analysis. These priority areas represent the best opportunities for open space to provide a benefit related to the criteria shown in each of the insets. The economic development priorities shown in the main frame were created by combining the criteria results using a weighted overlay analysis, with weights derived by the Open Space Working Group to reflect the relative benefit to the resource goal. The weights applied to each criteria in creating the overall goal result are listed alongside the criteria name within each inset.
